

Undergraduate Handbook
Department of Political Science
University of Tennessee, Knoxville
(Updated 1-29-2017)

Preliminary Notes:

1. If there are any differences between regulations in this handbook and those found either in the Undergraduate Catalog or official statements of the Undergraduate Council, the student must follow the regulations in the latter two sources. See <http://catalog.utk.edu/>.
2. The major and minor requirements described here apply to students entering UT during or after the fall 2016 semester. If you entered UT before the fall 2016 semester, please contact Dr. Anthony J. Nownes, Director of Undergraduate Studies, for details on major and minor requirements.

POLITICAL SCIENCE: AN OVERVIEW

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville offers a variety of courses of general interest to undergraduates. The discipline of political science is broad and diverse, comprising the study of everything from campaigns and elections to ancient political philosophy. As a blend of the theoretical and the practical, political science has much to offer either as an undergraduate major or minor or as an elective field for the non-major. It provides a broad liberal arts background for careers in law, government service, business, journalism, and education. It also provides an excellent foundation for students who wish to pursue post-graduate study, especially in the fields of law, political science, and public administration.

POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJOR AND MINOR REQUIREMENTS

THE MAJOR

The Political Science (POLS) Major consists of thirty-one (31) hours of political science course credit beyond the two major prerequisite courses, Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102.

All majors must take Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. Here are the requirements beyond these courses:

1. Each POLS major must take four of the following courses in our Foundations of Political Science series:

- POLS 200 - Introduction to Political Philosophy
- POLS 215 – Tennessee Government and Politics
- POLS 240 - Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy
- POLS 249 - Introduction to Comparative Politics
- POLS 265 - Introduction to International Relations

2. Each POLS major must earn eighteen (18) hours of upper-division political science course credit.

3. Each POLS major must take our Capstone Course, POLS 480.

Note: (1) At least nine (9) hours in the major must be earned at UTK.

THE MINOR

The Political Science Minor consists of eighteen (18) hours of political science course credit beyond the two minor prerequisite courses, Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102.

All minors must take Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. Here are the requirements beyond these courses:

1. Each POLS minor must take two of the following courses:

POLS 200 - Introduction to Political Philosophy
POLS 240 - Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy
POLS 249 - Introduction to Comparative Politics
POLS 265 - Introduction to International Relations
POLS 301 – Research Methods

2. Each minor must earn twelve (12) hours of upper-division political science course Credit (POLS 480 – Capstone does not count toward this requirement).

Notes: (1) At least six (6) hours in the minor must be earned at UTK.

THE PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION CONCENTRATION

Students majoring in political science who wish to prepare for a career in public service may select the Political Science Major with a Concentration in Public Administration (henceforth PAC). The concentration consists of thirty-four (34) hours of political science course credit beyond the two major prerequisite courses, Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102.

All PAC majors must take Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. Here are the requirements beyond these courses:

1. Each PAC major must take three of the following courses:

POLS 200 - Introduction to Political Philosophy
POLS 249 - Introduction to Comparative Politics
POLS 265 - Introduction to International Relations
POLS 301 - Research Methods

2. Each PAC major must take the following course:

POLS 240 - Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy

3. Each PAC major must take any four of the following courses:

ECON 331 - Government and Business
ECON 333 - Law and Economics
ECON 361 - Regional and Urban Economics

ECON 362 - Environmental and Natural Resource Policy
POL 311 - Contemporary Issues in American Public Policy
POL 440 - Public Management and Human Resources
POL 441 - Public Budgeting
POL 442 - Administrative Law and Regulatory Policymaking

4. Each PAC major also must earn an additional nine (9) hours of upper-division political science course credit.

5. Each PAC major must take our Capstone Course, POLS 480.

Note: (1) At least nine (6) hours in the major must be earned at UTK.

THE INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS CONCENTRATION

Students majoring in political science who wish to emphasize transnational politics in their study may select the Political Science Major with a Concentration in International Affairs (henceforth IAC). The concentration consists of thirty-one (31) hours of political science course credit beyond the two major prerequisite courses, Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102.

All IAC majors must take Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. Here are the requirements beyond these courses:

1. Each IAC major must take both of the following courses in our Foundations of Political Science series:

POLS 249 - Introduction to Comparative Politics
POLS 265 - Introduction to International Relations

2. Each IAC major must take one of the following courses:

POLS 200 - Introduction to Political Philosophy
POLS 301 – Research Methods

3. Each IAC major must take four of the following courses, including at least one course from each list:

List 1: International Relations

POLS 366 – United States Foreign Policy Process
POLS 370 – Contemporary International Problems
POLS 470 – International Law
POLS 471 – International Political Economy
POLS 472 – Conflict Processes
POLS 473 – Negotiation, Bargaining, and Diplomacy
POLS 474 – International Organization

POLS 479 – Regional Analysis of International Politics

List 2: Comparative Government and Politics

POLS 350 – Political Change in Developing Areas

POLS 451 – Ethnic Conflict in Foreign Countries

POLS 452 – The Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa

POLS 453 – Western European Politics

POLS 454 – Government and Politics of China and Japan

POLS 456 – Latin American Government and Politics

POLS 459 – Government and Politics of Post-Communist Countries

POLS 461 – Comparative Public Policy

POLS 463 – Contemporary Middle East Politics

4. Each IAC major must earn an additional nine (9) hours of upper-division political science course credit.

5. Each IAC major must take our Capstone Course, POLS 480.

Note: (1) At least nine (6) hours in the major must be earned at UTK.

HONORS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

The department's Honors Program emphasizes the ideals of a superior liberal arts education and gives students a more rigorous and intensive preparation in political science. The Honors Concentration (henceforth HC) consists of thirty-four (34) hours of political science course credit beyond the two major prerequisite courses, Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. These thirty-four (34) hours must include four courses numbered at the 200-level, which must be completed with a minimum cumulative average of 3.0. An HC major must have a minimum GPA of 3.3 in political science, a minimum overall GPA of 3.25, and at least 12 hours of university-designated honors courses (POLS 487 and POLS 488 count toward this total, as do any hours earned through honors by contract).

All HC majors must take Political Science 101 (or Political Science 107, the honors version of Political Science 101), and Political Science 102. Here are the requirements beyond these courses:

1. Each HC major must take three of the following courses in our Foundations of Political Science series:

POLS 200 - Introduction to Political Philosophy

POLS 215 – Tennessee Government and Politics

POLS 240 - Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy

POLS 249 - Introduction to Comparative Politics

POLS 265 - Introduction to International Relations

2. Each HC major also must take the following course:

POLS 301 - Research Methods (Note: This course should be taken before a student enrolls in POLS 487 his/her senior year)

3. As a senior, each HC major must take the following two courses (the Senior Honors sequence):

POLS 487 - Senior Honors: Thesis and Seminar I (fall; the student will develop a thesis topic)

POLS 488 - Senior Honors: Thesis and Seminar II (spring; the student will complete an honors thesis)

4. Each HC major also must earn an additional fifteen (15) hours of upper-division political science course credit.

5. Each HC major must take our Capstone Course, POLS 480.

Notes: (1) At least nine (9) hours in the major must be earned at UTK; (2) The number of students in the Honors Program is small. Admission to the program is selective, and by application. Generally, the department admits only those majors who have completed more than forty (40) hours of coursework with a minimum GPA of 3.0. A student's GPA, however, does not automatically qualify or disqualify him/her from admission to the Honors Program. A student must apply for and be admitted to the Honors Program by the Director of Undergraduate Studies in the Department of Political Science. An application for the Honors Program is available on the Department of Political Science website and at the department's physical location in 1001 McClung Tower.

THE BA-MPPA ACCELERATED DEGREE PROGRAM

For qualified undergraduate students, the Department of Political Science offers a BA-MPPA program in which a student may earn a BA in Political Science and an MPPA degree (Master of Public Policy and Administration). This program enables a qualified undergraduate student to take up to 9 hours of approved graduate courses as a senior and to have these hours count toward the BA degree and the MPPA degree. A student who is conditionally admitted to the BA-MPPA program may, during the fourth year of undergraduate study, complete up to 9 hours of graduate credit that counts toward both the BA and MPPA, provided that these graduate credit hours were approved by the Department Head (or designee) and by the Graduate School prior to satisfying all requirements for the BA degree.

A student typically is considered for conditional admission to the BA-MPPA program during or immediately following his/her third year of undergraduate study at UT. A student must be conditionally admitted before taking a graduate course that is to be used to satisfy the requirements of both the BA degree and the MPPA degree. The Department of Political Science will inform an applicant of his/her admission status prior to the beginning of his/her fourth or final year of undergraduate study. Conditional admission into the BA-MPPA program does not guarantee acceptance into either the Graduate School or the MPPA program. A student who has been admitted conditionally to the BA-MPPA program must apply for admission to the Graduate School and the MPPA program during his/her fourth or final year of undergraduate study. A student will be admitted fully to the BA-MPPA program only after he/she has been accepted by both the Graduate School and by the MPPA program. Once fully admitted to the MPPA program, each BA-MPPA student is required to complete the standard curriculum for the MPPA degree.

To be considered for conditional admission to the BA-MPPA program, a student must:

- Be a declared Political Science major
- Have a minimum overall GPA of 3.4
- Have completed at least 15 hours of coursework in Political Science
- Have completed at least 90 hours of the 120 hours of coursework required for the BA degree
- Provide three letters of recommendation and complete a personal interview with faculty members in the Department of Political Science.

In addition, applicants are strongly encouraged (but not required) to complete ECON 201 (or ECON 207), POLS 240, and POLS 301 before applying for admission to the BA-MPPA program. An application to the BA-MPPA accelerated program is available on the Department's website at <http://polisci.utk.edu/pdf/BA-MPPA.pdf>.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES

Undergraduate courses in the Department of Political Science are numbered 101-499. The 100-level courses are considered introductory and are appropriate for all students. The 300 and 400-level courses are upper division courses and are generally taken by juniors and seniors, though first-year students and sophomores are permitted to take them. The Undergraduate Catalog provides descriptions of all of our courses. Unless otherwise noted, each course is worth three credit hours.

494 Internship (1-6)
499 Service Learning in Political Science (1-3)

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES

Political science students should be aware of opportunities available to them that go beyond regularly scheduled courses. These opportunities are available to qualified students who wish to pursue interests that require independent study and/or which involve academically related activities away from campus.

POLS 491, POLS 492, and POLS 493 are intended to facilitate the needs of students who wish to undertake independent study or who wish to earn academic credit while engaging in academically related activities appropriate and relevant to the study of political science. Students interested in earning credit through any of these courses should contact either Dr. Anthony Nownes at anownes@utk.edu, or Dr. Richard Pacelle at rpacelle@utk.edu.

LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIPS

Two established Tennessee state legislative internship programs may be of interest to political science majors. The Tennessee State Legislative Internship Program is an officially sponsored program of the Tennessee General Assembly and is open to students enrolled in any Tennessee college or university. In addition, the University of Tennessee Alumni Association Legislative Internship Program selects several legislative interns each year. Internships are full-time during the legislative session, and require residency in Nashville during the session. Each intern is paid a fixed stipend during the internship. Both programs require that students be either juniors or seniors. Information and applications for both programs are distributed early in the fall semester of each academic year. For information about either of these programs, contact Dr. David Folz at dfolz@utk.edu.

DEPARTMENT SPONSORED INTERNSHIPS

Students may earn course credit through internships. Credit is earned through POLS 494 - Internship, and grades are assigned on a satisfactory/no credit basis. Students have the option of doing additional work, usually in the form of a paper directed by a faculty sponsor, in connection with an internship. To exercise this option, students must enroll in POLS 493 - Independent Study, which may be used to fulfill major requirements. For information about a department-sponsored internship, contact Dr. Anthony J. Nownes at anownes@utk.edu.

POLITICAL SCIENCE HONOR SOCIETY/POLITICAL SCIENCE STUDENT ORGANIZATION

Pi Sigma Alpha is the national political science honor society. It has over 190 chapters in the United States. Local chapters induct students who have achieved academic distinction. Applications for membership are accepted on a rolling basis, and students are inducted each spring semester. For qualifications and further information, contact Dr. Anthony J. Nownes at anownes@utk.edu.

If a student is interested in Pi Sigma Alpha but is not yet eligible (because, for example, he/she does not have the requisite number of credit hours), he/she may join the affiliated Political Science Student Organization. The Organization works with Pi Sigma Alpha on all its programs. For further information on the Political Science Student Organization, contact Dr. Anthony J. Nownes at anownes@utk.edu.

ADVISING FOR MAJORS

All majors must complete POLS 101 (or POLS 107) and POLS 102 before they are assigned a faculty advisor. Before they are assigned a faculty advisor, political science majors are advised by Liam Hysjulien, Coordinator of Academic Advising for the Department of Political Science. After a student completes POLS 101 (or 107) and POLS 102, he/she will complete a Request for Faculty Advisor form (available on the Department of Political Science website and at the department's physical office in 1001 McClung Tower). Thereafter, the student will be advised by his/her faculty advisor.

QUESTIONS, PROBLEMS AND GRIEVANCES

Questions about the undergraduate program should be addressed to one's faculty advisor. Grievances arising from courses should be brought to the attention of the course instructor. If the problem remains unresolved, students should make an appointment to see the Director of Undergraduate Studies, Dr. Anthony J. Nownes, or the Department Head, Dr. Richard Pacelle.
